

6 Careers That Use AP[®] Government

Oh, the possibilities...

Educators

Teach political science and civics at the secondary or collegiate level.

Lawyers

Evaluate evidence and formulate arguments to represent parties in legal matters.

Podcast Hosts

Interpret and discuss political figures and events, offering their unique perspective to audiences.

Policy Analysts

Apply their understanding of contemporary global issues to help public or private organizations tailor policy decisions.

Lobbyists

Apply an understanding of political principles and special interests to create mutually beneficial connections that link groups with policymakers.

Public Relations Managers

Apply their knowledge of complex dynamics of American society to shape public perceptions of the organizations they represent.